

In this issue:

Cover

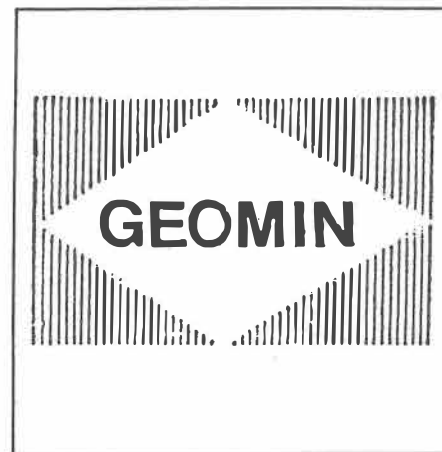

1983
VOL 2 NO 2
World economy: raw material markets until the year 2000 – implications for Eastern Europe
Special report: Economic interaction between East and South
Interview: Geomin
Commodity report: Nickel
Asia report: Monogram
Book reviews: CMEA, Rio Tinto-Zinc

p 6

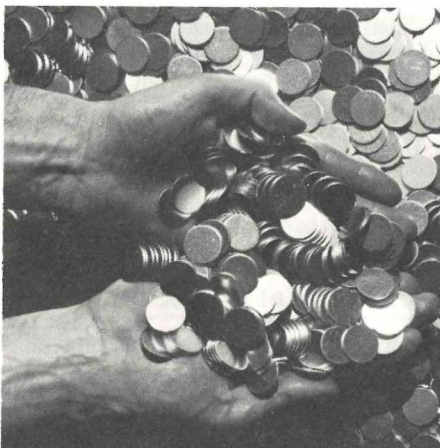

p 20

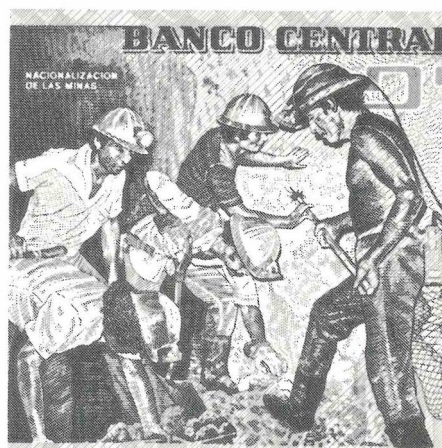

p 24

p 42

p 54

Cover

Construction of the new Soviet gas pipeline for deliveries to other CMEA countries and to Western Europe. Photo by APN.

4 Editorial

6 World raw material markets until the year 2000 – implications for Eastern Europe

By István Dobozi, Professor of Economics and Head of the Institute for World Economics, Budapest.

20 Interview with Florin Firulescu Managing Director of Geomin

By Magnus Ericsson, RMR.

24 Economic interaction between East and South – the mineral resource dimension
By István Dobozi.

42 The world nickel market – a North American perspective
By Peter Warrian, Research Director, United Steelworkers of America.

50 Basic facts on the world nickel industry
By Andreas Tegen, RMR.

54 The experience of a Nicaraguan miner/ The story of Carlos Pevedilla/ Annual opinions of a mine manager
Documental quotations from Ern Kettel, General Manager and Vice President of Empresa Minera De El Setentrion, 1941-1979.
By Robert Lilljequist, RMR.

58 Book reviews

By Kristian Gerner, Lecturer, Dept of History, University of Lund, Sweden and Jerker Carlsson, Dept of Economic History, University of Gothenburg, Sweden.

Credits:

p3 (left to right) APN; United Nations; Geomin; APN; NFB-5/63; Banco Central de Nicaragua, p6 APN (top); CTK, p11 Shell/Billiton, p20 UN/J Frank, p24 ADN/ZB, p28 APN, p33 APN (top); Jerzy Kostrowicki (bottom left); Bulgargeomin, p40 APN, p42 NFB Canada, p50 Prensa Latina, p52 Inco, p54 Inmineh, Nicaragua, p56 Robert Lilljequist.