

Cover

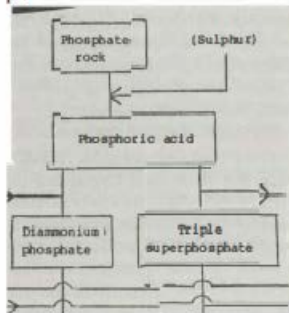

p4

p14

p21

p42

p58

Cover

After crushing, the auriferous quartz ore is brought to the molinete, a simple grinding mill.

Photo from Somotillo, the Western region, Nicaragua. Courtesy by Bengt Fagerberg, SGAB, Sweden.

4 Transnational corporations and services: the final frontier

By Fredrick F Claimonte, staff member UNCTAD and John H Cavanagh, Fellow of the Institute of Policy Studies, Washington, USA.

14 Can commodities solve the crisis — the commodity policy of Bolivia

By Theo Muttar, Member of the editorial board of Peripherie, Institut für Soziologie, Münster, BRD.

21 World phosphate markets — new parameters

By Mohamed Bemoussi, Department of Political Science, University of Montréal, Canada.

30 Organization of small-scale mining in Nicaragua and mineral processing techniques to extract gold in non-industrialized countries

By Bengt Fagerberg and Robert Liljequist, SGAB, Uppsala, Sweden, and Noel Castellón, Ministry of Mines, Managua, Nicaragua.

42 Industrial democracy in the Saskatchewan potash industry

By Donald Bobiash, Balliol College, Oxford, England.

58 Interviews with S W Harapiak, President and Chief Executive Officer, Potash Corporation of Saskatchewan (PCS), Rolf H Holzkemper, President PCS and David Dombowsky, former President of PCS.

62 Books received.

Credits:

Cover: Bengt Fagerberg; p5 Mitsubishi Corporation/Tokyo Newsletter; p16, p20 Tin International; p23 Office Cherifien des Phosphates; p31 SGAB/RMR; p33, 34, 35, 37, p40 Bengt Fagerberg; p42, 45, 48, 51, 61, Potash Corporation of Saskatchewan (PCS).