

In this issue:

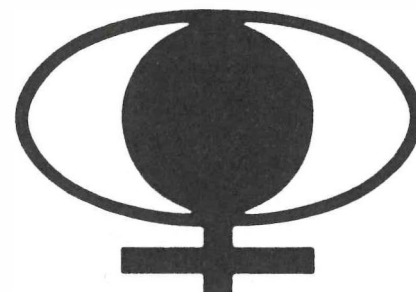

Cover

4

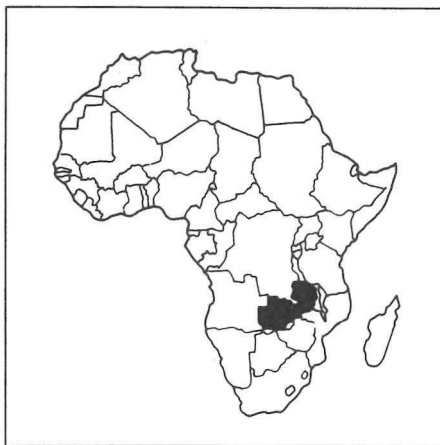

24

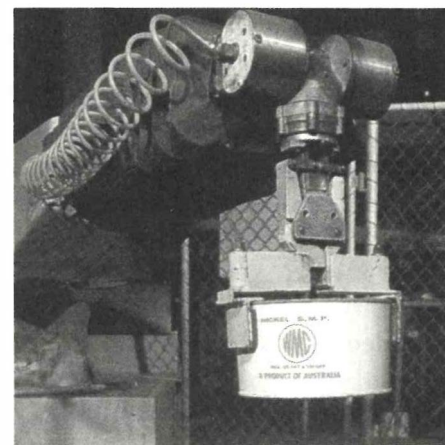

36

43

60

Cover

Copper cathodes ready for export, Antofagasta, Chile.
Photo: Courtesy by CODELCO-Chile.

4 The current economic crisis and its historical antecedents.

By Lev Gonick, Department of Political Science, Sir Wilfrid Laurier University, Waterloo, Ontario.

20 Interview with Windsor Kapalakonje Nkwani, Secretary-General of CIPEC.

24 CODELCO-Chile; a corporate profile of the world's leading copper producer.
By Ciaran O'Fairchellaigh, North Australia Research Unit, Australian National University, Casuarina.

36 Copper workers: militant and politicized?

By Oscar Mac-Clure and Iván Valenzuela, Centro de Asesoría Profesional (CEDAL), Santiago, Chile.

43 Copper fabrication facilities and the mining resource base in Zambia — present scope and potential for growth.

By W C Lombe, the School of Mines, University of Zambia, Lusaka.

60 The world nickel market — an Australian perspective.

By H M Thompson and Howard Smith, Economics Department, Murdoch University, Murdoch, Western Australia.

65 Book review.
Trouble in the Third Kingdom, by Simon D Strauss.
Reviewed by Gill Burke, Consultant in the political economy of minerals, London.

Credits:
p3 Codelco-Chile, Encyclopedia of Technology, 1704, Codelco-Chile, US Bureau of Mines, CEDAL, Santiago, Western Mining; p13 Encyclopedia of Technology, 1704; p21 CIPEC; p36 CEDAL, Santiago; p54-7 Phelps Dodge; p63 Western Mining.